A Crème de la Crème Vacation® by

DISTRAY®

Our 49th Year

Starting this fall and through the winter, you can fly away to a warm weather vacation without leaving your intellectual curiosity at home. So, instead of spending a week isolated on an island in the sun, come fly with us to springtime or summer in three of the most interesting countries under the sun. Best of all, our two week luxury vacation shows you, in depth, the cultural and scenic riches of Brazil, Argentina, and Chile at a cost that could be less than the price of a solitary week during high season in the Caribbean.

With us, you'll begin by flying to Rio de Janeiro where you'll spend 3 nights at one of the very best hotels in the city. Here, you'll be right across the street from one of the world's most beautiful beaches. But during your stay you'll be looking at a lot more than sand and sea. On a series of sightseeing tours we'll show you other scenic splendors, treat you to some of the world-renowned cuisine, introduce you to the historic sites, give you a taste of the pulsating night life, and take you into the cultural heart of the city.

After your stay we'll fly you to Iguazu Falls, a tropical jungle setting in the midst of which the waters of 275 separate waterfalls cascade down their rocky mountainsides. You'll spend a night here, view the breathtaking panorama from several fabulous vantage points, then fly on to a city that is often compared to Paris

(but there'll never be a last tango in Buenos Aires). During a 4-night stay we'll give you tours and meals in the course of which you can experience the European ambience, in the boutiques, restaurants, elegant architecture and people, and tremendous cultural attractions.

You'll discover Argentina's native charms, too, when we take you to "Opera Pampa", where authentically-costumed gauchos demonstrate their extraordinary horsemanship and re-enact for you their vital role in Argentina's history. From Buenos Aires you'll fly to the natural paradise called Bariloche for 2 nights. Here you'll enjoy the facilities of a great lodge-resort and awesome scenery of stunning lakes, towering mountains, and flowering meadows.

Your tour continues with a flight to Santiago, for a 3-night stay in the capital of Chile in which, on clear days, you get "cool" views of the snow-capped Andes. One day of your stay you'll spend exploring the political, cultural, and historic sites of this more than 500-year-old city. On the remaining two days you'll savor the delights of the romantic wine country to the south and the beautiful Pacific Ocean beaches to the north.

Stay at outstanding Deluxe hotels in Rio, Buenos Aires, and Santiago; at superbly-located Superior First Class hotels in Iguazu Falls and Bariloche. Price includes 24 meals: 13 American or buffet breakfasts, 8 dinners, 3 lunches.

From Sugar Loaf you'll watch the sun set over Guanabara Bay and Rio.

ALL THESE THINGS ARE INCLUDED:

1. Round trip transportation on regularly-schedule flights: of TAM Brazilian Airlines (between Miami and Rio de Janeiro) and of LAN Air Chile (between Miami and Santiago, Chile); plus four regularly-scheduled flights within South America. Prices from New York available upon request.

2. 13 nights of accommodations, basis double occupancy, all in rooms with private bath or shower. (Single supplement available upon request.) Superbly-located, outstanding Deluxe hotels are used in Rio, Buenos Aires, and Santiago. Breathtakingly-situated Superior First Class hotels are used in Iguazu Falls and in Bariloche.

3. Hotel taxes and service charges.

4. 24 meals, consisting of 13 full American or buffet breakfasts, 8 dinners, and 3 lunches.

5. A 3-night stay in Rio de Janeiro, a city of extraordinary natural beauty, set between the mountains and the sea, with its 50-plus miles of beaches filled with white sand and sun-bronzed people. Here, in the birthplace of the samba and the bossa nova, you'll find life and the arts responding to a romantic rhythm day and night.

6. Late in the afternoon of your arrival day a trip to what is literally one of Rio's highlights—Sugar Loaf Mountain. You'll ascend by panoramic cable car to the top where the views are breathtaking. Afterward, we'll take you part way down the mountain, where we'll give you a cocktail party during which you'll watch as the sun sets over Corcovado, Guanabara Bay, the beaches and downtown—and fall under the hypnotic spell of Rio as its lights slowly begin to twinkle-on.

7. The day after you arrive in Rio a full-day tour during which we'll show you November 15th Square, named for the date in 1889 when, after years of rule by Portuguese-appointed viceroys and home-grown monarchs, the Republic of Brazil was declared; the National History Museum, a beautiful example of Brazilian colonial architecture; the National Library, a neoclassical structure built about 100 years ago, now the repository of about 13 million volumes; the Pyramid Fountain; the 18th-century Paco Imperial, now a cultural center, but formerly the royal palace from which kings ruled Brazil until the monarchy was overthrown; the Palácio do Catete, a 19th-century palace where 18 presidents of the Republic resided until the capital was moved to Brasília in 1960; the National Fine Arts Museum; the Teatro Municipal, a smaller version of the Opera Garnier in Paris; the Modern Art Museum, a stunning example of Space Age Architecture; the Carmen Miranda Museum; the charming neighborhood of Santa Teresa, where you'll visit the Museum of the Small Farm of the Sky, with its collection of 20th-century masterpieces by Picasso, Matisse, Modigliani, Degas, and others; the Candelaria Church, whose impressive classical façade rises tranquilly amid the modern skyscrapers of downtown Rio; the gorgeously-restored Grand Synagogue; Pasmado Park—also called Yitzhak Rabin Park; and more.

8. On your last day in Rio you'll once again scale the heights—this time by cogwheel railway and this time ascending Corcovado from which you'll view the city from a dramatically different perspective than you had from Sugar Loaf.

NOTE: One of your included dinners in Rio will be a famous Churrascaria traditional barbecue (featuring meat, fish, and other choices), followed by a nightclub visit where you'll enjoy a lively and colorful Folklore and Carnival Show.

9. A regularly-scheduled airline flight from Rio de Janeiro to Iguazu Falls.

10. An overnight stay in Iguazu Falls in rooms facing an astounding formation of waterfalls (there are about 275 separate cataracts here!). During your stay you'll tour and view from various vantage points this tropically-set natural wonder of the world.

11. A regularly-scheduled airline flight from Iguazu Falls to Buenos Aires.

12. A 4-night stay in Buenos Aires, political, cultural, and economic capital of Argentina and, with 13 million residents, one of the world's most important cities.

13. On the day after your arrival we'll introduce you to the city where the tango was born and continues to be a romantic obsession. Our tour will take you to: THE PLAZA DE MAYO (May Square) DISTRICT where, surrounding the square itself, we'll show you the Casa Rosada, roughly the equivalent of the White House in Washington; the 18th-century Cabildo (the Town Hall), built under Spanish rule and the site where, in 1810, Argentine citizens voted to end that rule; the 19th-century Metropolitan Cathedral, with its memorial dedicated to the victims of the Holocaust; the Palace of the Congress, which looks very much like the U.S. Congress building; and more; THE EL CENTRO DISTRICT where we'll point out the Plaza San Martin, with its impressive statue of General San Martin on horseback and the equally impressive architecture of the posh homes in the neighborhood; the towering landmark Obelisk, where crowds frequently gather to hear open air concerts or to celebrate soccer victories; the Teatro Colon, one of the world's technically-finest, most beautiful, and most renowned opera houses (into which we'll take you, if ongoing renovations permit at the time of your visit; if not, we'll take you instead to visit another magnificent opera house, the 150-year-old Municipal Theater in Santiago, during your stay in that city). THE LA BOCA DISTRICT, a colorful neighborhood heavily-populated during the last century by hard-working Italian immigrants, now home to the Iguazu Falls - there are a lot more cataracts where these come from.

This "flying saucer" is Rio's Modern Art Museum.

Calle Museo Caminito—a delightful open air museum and art market, where street artists may paint a “tango picture” for you while tango music plays in the background; THE PALERMO DISTRICT, green and gorgeous with its trendy real estate and its profusion of parklands and lovely artificial lakes; and, of course, LA RECOLETA DISTRICT, the elegant, glamorous neighborhood in which you’ll see fashionable boutiques, some of the finest restaurants, exquisite mansions and apartments, the great cultural institutions of the city—including the Centro Cultural (which you’ll visit)—the National Library, and others, and the city’s most prestigious cemetery, in which the “who’s who” of Argentina (including Evita and her family) are buried.

14. On another day of your stay we’ll take you to visit two of the city’s outstanding museums—the Museum of Fine Arts, with its massive collection of world-class masterpieces; and the Museum of Decorative Arts, where the building’s architecture is just as much a work of art as the collections it houses. And, we’ll take you to THE ONCE DISTRICT, at one time home to most of the city’s Jewish population and still the center of Jewish communal activity. Here we’ll point out the Libertad Synagogue, the AMIA Jewish “La Boca District”, Buenos Aires, where we’ll take you to an open air museum and art market.

Community Center, and Hillel House; then we’ll take you to THE SAN TELMO DISTRICT where the architecture reflects the heritage of Italian, French, and Spanish citizens, and, where, on Sundays, at the Plaza Dorrego a truly fabulous antiques market takes place while couples are dancing the tango in the streets.

and demonstrates the traditions and adventures of the gauchos (cowboys) from the arrival of the horse in South America to the birth of the Argentine nation.

16. On another evening of your stay your included dinner will be at an historic venue where you’ll also enjoy one of the city’s most artful and famous tango shows.

17. A regularly-scheduled jet flight from Buenos Aires to Bariloche.

18. A 2-night stay in Bariloche, a natural paradise of vast lakes with long, fjord-like fingers, mountain peaks, forests, and flowering meadows.

On the day after your arrival we’ll give you a tour during which you’ll view and photograph these visual delights. Since you’ll be spending your nights at one of the most pampering lodge-like resorts in the world—we suggest that you pamper yourself while here. Enjoy a free drink during “Happy Hour”, guided health walks, the heated pools, a health club, the sauna, a tango or yoga class. This is a place which, like Nature, can help you restore yourself...so restore!

19. A regularly-scheduled jet flight from Bariloche to Santiago, Chile (via Puerto Montt where there is a very short stopover).

20. A 3-night stay in Santiago, capital of Chile, a city which seamlessly blends tradition and modernity in its architecture, its cultural attractions, its cuisine, and even its daily routines. (For example: in this totally wired, up-to-the-minute business community they still have a changing of the guard every other day.)

15. On one evening of your stay you’ll attend “Opera Pampa”, in which a large cast in authentic costume, and with authentic scenery, narrates

21. On the day after your arrival we’ll show you the city itself: the Plaza de Armas, the beautiful central square surrounded by historic neoclassical buildings, including the Correo Central (once the seat of government, now a gorgeous Post Office); the ex-National Congress Building (now the Foreign Ministry); the 18th-century Cathedral; the National History Museum, dating to colonial times; and the imposing City Hall. We’ll take you to the Plaza de la Constitucion, show you the Palacio de la Moneda, the presidential palace where Salvador Allende died during the coup in 1973; point out the Barrio Paris-Londres, also called Little Europe because of its chic little houses sitting on cobblestone-lined streets; let you browse a bit amid the pastoral setting and the sculptures that are usually exhibited in the Parque de Las Esculturas. You’ll have inside visits to the National Museum of Fine Arts; the fabulous Museum of Pre-Columbian Art; and, if the Teatro Colon in Buenos Aires is unavailable, to the gorgeous, 150-year-old Municipal Theater, where, between April and November, world-class performances of opera, ballet, and symphony take place.

22. On your third day in Santiago we’ll take you north to visit Valparaiso, the colorful port city built into dozens of hills, with wonderful views of the Bay. During a panoramic city tour we’ll point out the Plaza Sotomayor, leading to the port; the Museum of Fine Arts, which resembles some of Antoni Gaudi’s architecture in Barcelona; the impressive mansion housing the Naval and Maritime Museum; the current National Congress Building, with its two towers—one to hold the Senate, the other the House of Representatives. And La Sebastiana, the spectacular house of Chile’s great poet, Pablo Neruda (which you’ll visit). From Valparaiso we’ll take you a few miles up the road, passing some of Chile's most famous beaches—Salinas, Renaca, Los Lilenes, and Concon—into the lovely seaside resort city of Vina del Mar. Here the ocean scenery is a study in contrasts: areas where the sea crashes against a craggy coastline of rugged rocks followed by tranquil, beautifully-manicured sandy beaches. We'll show you some of the exquisite homes and apartment buildings and restaurants spread out along the coast and we'll take you for an inside visit to the Fonck Archaeological Museum, with its collection of over 1400 archaeological and ethnographic objects brought from Easter Island—including the 500-year-old Moai (carved stone head) sitting in front of the museum. You'll have a bit of time for some shopping in Vina del Mar before returning to Santiago.

23. On your last day in Santiago we'll take you into the world-renowned wine country of the Maipo Valley. Here you'll see a peaceful landscape of seemingly endless vines artistically punctuated by imposing haciendas that are the Chilean counterpart of France's wine chateaus. You'll stop at one of the valley's most famous wineries—Vina Santa Rita—where you'll learn about the wine-making process, tour the musty cellars which played a part in Chile's war for independence, and enjoy a wine tasting and lunch in the winery's atmospheric restaurant. After your day in this beguiling part of Chile we'll take you to the Santiago Airport for your flight back to the U.S.A.

NOTE: if DISTRAV has not received notification of cancellation, in writing, at least 1 day prior to the U.S. departure date of the tour, and participant fails to appear, or if the participant leaves the tour at any time after it has begun and for any reason, there will be no refund of the price charged. In the event that one person in a room shared by two persons cancels before departure, the remaining person will be responsible for paying the resulting single supplement charge.

In addition to the foregoing penalties, a separate airfare cancellation penalty may be charged. This penalty can vary between 25% and 100% of the value of your air ticket, depending upon the time of cancellation before the scheduled departure. In certain instances, it may be necessary for a cancelled passenger to supply DISTRAV with an official medical note verifying the cause of cancellation in order for DISTRAV to process and issue a refund less the applicable penalties.

DISTRAV offers a Travel Protection Plan, which, for covered reasons and, subject to the terms, conditions, and exclusions of the plan, covers pre-departure trip cancellation, medical expenses, 24-hour emergency evacuation and assistance, post-departure trip interruption, travel delay, baggage and baggage delay. Please refer to the travel insurance certificate for complete details of the plan. Payment for the plan is not refundable under any circumstances.

This refund constitutes the only liability on the part of DISTRAV in connection with such cancellation. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the amount of any refund which may be made by DISTRAV to a tour participant shall be limited solely to the amount received by DISTRAV from or on behalf of such tour participant. No reductions in the price paid and/or partial refunds can be granted to passengers for any changes or deviations from the itinerary of the tour. For more information on cancellations see the "Responsibility" section.

TOUR PRICE. The tour price is per person, based on double occupancy, in rooms with private bath or shower, and includes round-trip scheduled airfare from Miami, as well as flights between cities in South America. (Single supplement price, and add-on prices from other cities are available on request.) Hotel taxes are included in the price. For all tour participants, transportation and baggage handling are included for one standard size suitcase per person between hotels, and to and from airports in connection with all flights at destination. Prices quoted herein are based on land costs, air costs, and currency exchange rates in effect at the time the tours were planned. The air portions of the tour are based on special airfares for which the air carriers do not guarantee seat assignments. A client is welcome to make a general seat request, but DISTRAV can offer no assurances that these requests will be honored. DISTRAV reserves the right to increase prices in the event of airfare or land cost increases beyond its control. Any such increase in tour price must be paid prior to departure, and shall not modify or alter the cancellation provisions in this brochure. However, should any increase exceed 10% of the tour price, participants may cancel without penalty provided they do so by certified mail to DISTRAV no later than seven days after they have been notified of an increase.

PASSPORTS, VISAS, AND HEALTH DOCUMENTS.

U.S. and most other nationals are required to have a valid passport for tours to South America. As of press time visas are required for U.S. citizens traveling to Brazil. At the time of booking, all passengers are urged to check with the consulate or tourist board of each country on the tour itinerary for up-to-the-minute passport and visa requirements, as well as for suggested and mandatory inoculations. It is understood that it is the passenger's responsibility to obtain and pay for the required travel and health documents. Any costs and/or loss of services incurred due to lack of proper documentation are solely the passenger's responsibility.

MEALS. The tour described in this brochure includes either American or local-style buffet breakfasts daily during your stay abroad. Breakfasts are served either in the hotel dining room or in a private dining room. This tour includes a substantial number of dinners. Dinner meals are usually served at a set time in your hotel (where a separate dining room may be used) or at an outside restaurant. Usually, you will be served a limited à la carte dinner (which means you'll select from a menu with 3 appetizers, 3 main courses, and 3 desserts—with coffee or tea included). When provided to a group, this type of dinner menu requires extra time to prepare and, therefore, it may require patience on your part. Occasionally, dinner may be served buffet style, or as a set menu. When lunches are included, they are usually from a set menu without choices or coffee, due to time constraints, on sightseeing days. For all meals: additional courses, bottled water, wines, and liquors are not included in the tour price. You must pay for such items directly to the restaurant.

NOT INCLUDED IN THE TOUR PRICE.

All meals, entrance fees, services, or local sightseeing not specifically mentioned in connection with the tour described in this brochure are not included in the price of that tour. With respect to all tours described herein: passport and visa fees, laundry, telephone, room service charges at your hotel, tips to Tour Manager; tips to local city guides, charges for excess baggage, and all other items not specified in this brochure as included tour features are not included in tour price. Departure taxes and additional security surcharges, customs, immigration, and other fees, established by governments and/or air carriers, are not included in the tour price, and DISTRAV will invoice and collect these charges from the passenger prior to departure.

WHILE ON TOUR. The motorcoaches used on these tours are air-conditioned. For the comfort of all passengers, smoking is not permitted on motorcoaches. Stops made during the touring day can be used for smoking, for stretching one's legs, and for taking photographs. In addition, at the discretion of the Tour Manager, all tour participants may be asked to shift places on the motorcoach at reasonable intervals during the touring day. Participation in this tour requires a significant amount of walking. Persons for whom this factor presents a health hazard should not participate in this tour.

Tour participants who require any form of assistance must be accompanied by a companion who is capable of and totally responsible for providing such assistance. Space limitations, unfortunately, prevent wheelchairs and walkers from being brought on motorcoaches. DISTRAV is not responsible for any difficulties (including, but not limited to, additional costs for shipping, cab fare, etc.) which may arise from carrying excess baggage while on tour. If any such difficulties arise, it is solely the passenger's responsibility to make and pay for alternative arrangements for the additional luggage.

RESPONSIBILITY. Booking of the tour by the passenger is acknowledgement of and consent to the following limitations on the responsibility of DISTRAV. All tour elements, services, and facilities (including, without limitation, carriage by land, or air, Tour Manager and local guide's services, hotel accommodations, meals, transfers, baggage handling, and aircraft, cruise ship, ferry, vessel, train, or motorcoach type) on these tours are furnished by independent contractors who are not agents or employees of DISTRAV (or any of its divisions or affiliated companies) and, thus, are not subject to the control of DISTRAV. DISTRAV, its agents, servants, and employees shall not be liable whatsoever for any injury, damage, loss, accident, delay, irregularity, or the consequences thereof, resulting from any act or omission of such contractors who supply services on the tour, nor for any modification, substitution, interruption or cancellation of services, in whole or in part, supplied by such contractors, or any strikes or other force majeure, or the consequences thereof. As recent events have made clear, it is impossible for DISTRV to determine or give assurances regarding the safety or security of any location on a tour or of any means used to arrive at that destination. Accordingly, DISTRV disclaims any liability or responsibility of any kind or nature and nothing contained in this brochure shall be deemed to be a warranty with respect to any act of terrorism, hijacking, civil disturbance, or other similar event or for any losses or damages sustained by reason thereof. In the event the services and accommodations described in this tour brochure cannot be supplied due to delay, modification, interruption or cancellation of services, in whole or in part, or by reason of any strikes or other force majeure, local holiday or museum closings, or any other causes beyond the control of DISTRV, it will use its best efforts to supply services and accommodations which are available and, in the sole judgement and discretion of DISTRV, most nearly comparable to those set forth in this brochure and most consistent with the purpose and design of the tour. DISTRV reserves the right to alter, amend, and modify the itinerary, accommodations, carrier, fare basis and/or other services described in this brochure. If, either before or after the tour has commenced, DISTRV alters, amends, or modifies the itinerary or any tour element, service, or facility described herein, if so doing is determined by DISTRV to be in the best interests of the tour participants, or in the event any service or facility is not used due to voluntary omission by the tour participant, no refunds will be granted. If it becomes necessary for any service to be changed through any circumstances beyond the control of DISTRV, any potential additional tour cost would have to be borne by the passenger and would be payable immediately. Grading of hotels and services on these tours is in accordance both with standard industry practice and with the best judgment of DISTRV, and a participant accepts such grading when booking these tours.

Any controversy or claim relating to or arising from a DISTRV tour shall be resolved by binding arbitration in accordance with the Commercial Arbitration Rules of the American Arbitration Association. Any such arbitration proceedings shall be conducted at the New York, N.Y. Regional Office of the American Arbitration Association.

ALL BAGGAGE IS AT OWNER'S RISK THROUGHOUT THE TOUR. On International flights, the maximum baggage weight allowance, according to airline regulations, is 70 lbs. per bag. On domestic flights inter-continental, the maximum baggage weight allowance is 44 lbs. per bag. IMPORTANT! As this brochure went to press Special Security Regulations for Carry-On Baggage were in effect. These Regulations vary by carrier and are subject to change. We urge you to secure an update on these regulations from your airline(s) one week prior to departure.

(Please remember that due to space constraints on motorcoaches, you are asked to limit your luggage to one standard-size suitcase and one carry-on bag per person.) On international flights, the liability of the carrier is limited to the actual cash value of baggage, but not more than approximately $400.00 per passenger for unchecked baggage. Some carriers reserve the right to attempt to repair damaged luggage before authorizing reimbursement. Carriers assume no liability for fragile or perishable articles. The carriers are not to be held responsible for any act, omission, or event during the time that passengers are not on board their aircraft and/or conveyances. Liability for the conveyance of passengers, baggage, and personal property by the carriers is subject to terms and conditions of the Passage Contracts, and the passage contract in use by the carriers when issued will constitute the sole contract between the carriers and the passengers.

DISTRV reserves the absolute right, in its sole discretion, to accept, decline, retain, or remove any person as participant on these tours for any reason at any time before or during the actual operation of the tour. If any tour member is removed from the tour by DISTRV, such participant's sole remedy shall be to obtain a proportionate refund for unused tour services and DISTRV shall not be liable or responsible for any damages, costs, fees or expenses of any kind or nature, all of which are hereby expressly waived by participant.
